Costa Mesa, CA | May 19th, 2015 | Audeze, maker of award-winning planar magnetic headphones, is excited to announce that the EL-8 Planar Magnetic Headphone in open-back and closed-back versions will be available at the Apple Online Store.

The EL-8 closed-back version is available today, May 19th at Apple Online, and the open version will be available on June 2nd. These include an Apple cable with inline microphone and 3-button controls that will also work as standard audio cables. Some functions will work with Android (especially version 4.4.4) and Blackberry. Both audio cables are included, Apple and standard, and there's no change to the $699 retail pricing.

Awards

Digital Trends gave the EL-8s a Top Tech CES 2015 Award plus an Editor's Choice Award in their full review. Here are a few choice comments:

"There's an effortless, almost sumptuous way the EL-8s approach their revelation of detail ... The EL-8 proved almost startling in their clarity, luminous and pristine, without ever becoming abrasive and especially impressive in the handling of higher instruments and percussive effects."

Additional Cables

- Balanced cable with 2 x 3.5mm stereo connectors for PONO and Sony PHA-3, $49 USA retail.
 - Balanced cable with 2.5mm connectors for Astell & Kern - $49 USA retail.
- Prices subject to change

Audeze Direct

If you buy direct from Audeze, there will be NO restocking fee for existing customers if you return the headphones within 14 days.

A sweet deal, get your EL-8s today!
